Annie's Surf Shack, Self-Check-in Instructions.

Hello,

If you are not familiar with Airbnb, VRBO or other short-term vacation rentals. The check-in process is a little different than a hotel. We have what is known as "Host Free Check-in". Meaning that there is not an office to check-in and no key to pick-up. We provide you with a personal access code to electronic door lock.

The door code changes at 3:00 PM the day you arrive and will change automatically at 11:00 AM the day of your departure. Please keep this code in a safe place. We recommend that you enter this this number on your phone or memorize it. This way you will always have it with you.

Your code will be in your Welcome Packet and your Welcome Cover Letter. The Welcome Packet will be emailed to you a few days before your Check-In.

To access the condo, simply type in the six-digit number and a little green light will light, indicating that you can open the door. It's just that simple.

If for some reason you lose your access code, you call our property manager and they will provide you with it. Or you can text or email us too.

I ka mana huakai (Have a wonderful trip!)

Aloha & Mahalo
